Prepared by: Tamilselvi
Program: ApnoAI Data Analytics Internship
Dashboard: The Insight Board
Date: October 2026

1. Revenue Insight — Sales by Category

Insight: Furniture is the top revenue-generating category, with sales of 837,647.85, followed by Clothing at 823,721.30. Electronics records the lowest sales at 399,822.20.

Business impact: Furniture and Clothing are important sales drivers, while Electronics may offer an opportunity for growth.

Recommendation: Maintain sufficient inventory for high-performing categories and test targeted promotions for Electronics to improve sales.

2. Profitability Insight — Regional Performance

Insight: Central generates the highest regional profit at 943,677.84, followed by East at 935,706.63. North records the lowest profit at 795,107.30.

Business impact: Central and East are the strongest regions by total profit, while North may have opportunities to improve its performance.

Recommendation: Review successful practices in Central and East and investigate North's product mix, discount levels, sales, and operating costs before deciding on corrective actions.

3. Customer Behaviour Insight — Sales by Customer Segment

Insight: Corporate customers generate the highest sales at 4,311,027.50, followed by Small Business at 4,151,641.15. Home Office records the lowest sales at 3,750,252.65.

Business impact: Corporate and Small Business customers are important revenue contributors. Home Office sales may offer an opportunity for growth.

Recommendation: Strengthen relationships with Corporate and Small Business customers, and investigate Home Office customers' product preferences and purchasing needs before launching targeted promotions.

Overall Strategic Recommendation

Prioritize inventory and marketing support for high-performing categories such as Furniture and high-revenue segments such as Corporate customers. Maintain successful practices in the Central and East regions, while investigating opportunities to improve Electronics sales and North region profitability. Monitor results regularly using the dashboard's Region slicer and sales trends.
